Dear friends,

It hardly seems possible that the holiday season is behind us and the end of January is already upon us. I hope your holidays - however you celebrate them - were a time of reflection and happiness.

The New Year is starting to take shape within our Senior Services Department. Before we move forward, please allow me to reflect for just a moment… personally, 2018 was filled with facing new challenges, learning different processes and creating fresh partnerships. I have cherished the opportunity to meet and work alongside so many new people.

Organizationally, 2018 was a strong year in our department with many changes, and as the saying goes … “change isn’t always easy”. For that reason, I want to compliment and recognize our great staff throughout our department. Our team includes members specializing in Aging/Disability, Veterans Affairs, Energy Assistance, Adult Day Care, Nutrition, and Para Transit … working with them, learning from them, and collaborating with them this year (as the not so new director anymore) has been a pleasure and I would be remiss not to compliment their courtesy and professionalism.

In addition, I would like to acknowledge and thank a special group of volunteers … our Passaic County Senior Advisory Council. In 2018, we set forth several goals and accomplished many of them … one in-particular, our council increased in size from 13 to 25 members and we now have dynamic representation from across county. I praise each of you for all the effort that goes into making the priorities of the our SENIOR ADVISORY COUNCIL a success – one collective voice. Thank you for teaching me and for standing together so that we can provide strong advocacy making lives better for those we serve throughout Passaic County.

Though we may face many challenges, the new year give us an opportunity to recognize that we are part of a greater story which gives us hope. I am excited to see what is ahead of us in 2019. This year, our department will focus on building toward new goals. As always, I assure you that we are committed to providing excellent community services; but now I will charge each of our divisions to effectively manage public resources, encourage innovation to create new ways to improve the way we provide our services. Look for our department to work with each division to allow our teams to develop a more integrated approach to delivering services for our residents.

May 2019 bring you and your families good health, joy and happiness.

As for us here at Senior Services … let’s get to work and make 2019 a year of success!

Sam Yodice,
Executive Director
Meet our Senior Advisory Council

Those of us who are regular readers of Senior Pathways may recall an article or two about the SAC and might even remember when our names were listed on the back page. Well the bad news is we’re no longer listed in the magazine and the good news is that’s because there are now way too many of us to do so! So for the newer readers and as a refresher for everyone else here’s a brief description of who we are and what we do, or at least try to do.

Each county in New Jersey with a Department of Senior Services is required to have a Senior Advisory Council consisting of volunteers from the communities within the respective county. The Board of Chosen Freeholders for each county establishes the number of members for the council and also approves and commissions members upon recommendation of the Director of Senior Services. Ideally the council has at least one member from each municipality within the county with 2 or more from the larger communities up to the maximum number. That number for Passaic County is 25, and we currently have representation from all but one of our towns.

Our mission, taken directly from our Bylaws is: “… to support the Passaic County Department of Senior, Veterans and Disabled Services staff in the establishment of an environment within the county whereby elderly residents can thrive, prosper and pursue their individual goals and benefit from county services”. In other words, we reach out to the seniors in the county to provide information on services and facilities available to seniors, to seek out information from our seniors regarding the usefulness and effectiveness of these services, find out the concerns our mature residents have and try to address them. To accomplish this we have established committees responsible for specific areas; namely Nutrition, Transportation, Community Education and Communication, Social Activities and Legislative Research and Action. Each committee meets on a regular basis and addresses their areas of concern.

The Council itself meets every month with reviewing committee reports and establishing goals and objectives to be addressed in the coming months. In future issues of Senior Pathways we’ll be detailing some of the specifics of what the Council has accomplished and new things on the horizon.

Passaic County Senior Services Partners With Animal Control Officer For Holiday Pet Gift Deliveries

At 95-years-old Vera Rosciano is a lifelong Paterson resident. It’s the city she was born in, raised her children with alongside her loving husband of more than 60 years, and still calls home. And while her daughter, also Vera, checks in on her every day it’s her large, and loud, German Shepherd that keeps her company, and Passaic County’s Meals on Wheels program that helps keep her fed. On Tuesday, both came together in the form of a special delivery from Passaic County Freeholder Director Sandi Lazzara that made Rosciano smile wide and declare herself, despite being confined to a recliner, “so happy.” “He guards me and protects me,” she said of her trusted four-legged friend, at this point sent behind closed doors in another room so a less than dog-enthusiastic TAPinto Paterson reporter could share Christmas greetings with Rosciano and her visiting daughter and granddaughter. Without him, and the support of her family, she believes, she’d have to move to a home or other care facility. The visit was part of an initiative driven by John DeCando, Paterson's long-time animal control officer, to present Christmas gifts to more than 200 area dogs and cats. The fully stocked and wrapped packages contain a number of items including retractable leashes, chew toys, litter box deodorizer and more. “Mom and dad want presents under the tree - let’s do something nice for pets,” DeCando said, before acknowledging that the contents of each package were donated by St. Hubert’s Animal Welfare Center, the well regarded shelter located in Madison, meaning there was no cost to local taxpayers for the effort.

“We like to make people happy,” he declared as resident after resident stopped in his office to pick up their pet’s present. Among the residents visiting the Ryle Road facility was Jocelyn Fischer, both a new resident and a new dog owner. Doodle, a shih tzu mix, the beaming woman said, joined their family just weeks ago as an early Christmas gift, and is quickly acclimating to home life. The mother of two who grew up in Bergen County and only moved to Paterson this past summer said she is “excited” for both her children and Doodle, when she gets the box home. “Paterson doesn’t always have a great name,” Fischer said. “I love being here,” she continued enthusiastically before concluding that she “couldn’t imagine” local government doing this “good deed for the community.” By combining the efforts of Meals on Wheels, which delivers over 700 hot meals daily to homebound senior citizens throughout the county, with DeCando’s efforts, Lazzara said, they are showing that while seniors are a priority for the county lawmakers “animals matter also.”

With two cats and two dogs in her home the longtime community servant said that pets are often an extension of who people are. “If they are nice to dogs and cats they are nice people,” Lazzara surmised before heading on to her next drop off. “Good meals and companionship are so important to the health of the residents we serve,” Sam Yodice, Passaic County’s director of senior services said. “This little gift,” he said, holding up one of the wrapped packages, “as an addition to our senior’s fresh, hot, and healthy meals will hopefully make the holiday season brighter for everyone we met.”

Remember to Exercise!

When you exercise regularly, you reduce your risk of chronic diseases like diabetes and heart disease while increasing your chances of sleeping better and living longer. Plus, physical activity can help you manage your weight. If you haven’t been exercising at all, talk with your doctor about ways to start slow. Go for a walk with a friend or try a beginner exercise class. If you start slowly and keep going, you’ll reap health benefits and reduce your risk of injury or burnout. Find ways to make exercise fun. Meet up with a friend, join a gym class, or find new places to explore. The possibilities are endless! What works for you?

WINTER ENERGY COSTS SAVING TIPS

Install a smart or programmable thermostat: Keep the setting at the lowest comfortable temperature in the winter. Raising or lowering your thermostat by just one degree can reduce heating bills by up to 3 percent.

Use ceiling fans: In the winter, run ceiling fans in a clockwise motion for better circulation of warm air.

Seal holes and cracks around windows and doors: Use caulk and weather stripping to seal up cracks and prevent drafts in windows and doorframes. Beneath doors, install draft guards.

Turn off power sources: Many TVs, computers, and other electronics continue to draw power when hibernating in standby mode, or even when turned off. Plug electronics into a power strip that can be turned off when not in use.

Use timers and motion detectors: For indoor and outdoor lighting, timers and motion detectors are a great way to make sure you only use lighting when you need it.

Use your blinds: During the winter, open curtains and blinds that face the sun on sunny days to warm your home, and close them at night to keep the warm air inside.

Passaic County Home Energy & Weatherization is accepting LIHEAP applications to help you with reducing your energy costs, please visit our office or contact us at 973-569-4032.

NOTICE: Do you need emergency funds to help pay your Heating services? Requests for Deliverable Fuels (oil, propane, etc.) are being accepted NOW Emergency for Natural Gas clients begins – March 15th!
The State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) is a statewide program administered by the New Jersey Department of Human Services with financial assistance through a grant from the U.S. Administration for Community Living (ACL). Currently in the Nation there are 59 million Medicare beneficiaries and includes people who are 65 and older and people who have a permanent disability. Many have difficulty navigating Medicare and the health care system on their own. Some do not get the care they need because they cannot pay and do not know about programs that give help. Others, (the many caregivers who assist family members, friends and neighbors) need answers and guidance. SHIP counselors provide free one-on-one Medicare counseling. Please contact Shirley Force, Passaic County SHIP coordinator at 973-569-4060.
